

"BIG FOUR" SEEM LIKELY TO ACCEPT

But If Leaders of 16 "Big" Unions
Now Confering Vote Against Wage Cut Referendum, All Will Take Strike Referendum.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 1.—First indication that the "Big Four" brotherhoods would accept the railway wage cuts, thus averting a national strike on rail lines, was given here today by H. M. Daugherty, vice grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He indicated the brotherhoods might "informally" accept the wage reductions. Daugherty declared however, that if the "get-together" session of the leaders of the sixteen "big" rail unions has today voted against acceptance, the reductions would be put up to a "referendum" in the "Big Four" brotherhoods. The "referendum" in effect would be a strike vote.

Chicago, July 1.—As a majority of the 1,500,000 railway workers throughout the country reported no work today at reduced wages, the representatives, 1,000 strong, were assembled in Chicago for conference regarding the 12 per cent wage slash. They are relied upon to keep the transportation wheels turning.

Railway officials do not appear to be worried by prospects of a strike. They pointed out today that the union leaders are cognizant of the industrial depression throughout the country and that they would hesitate long before recommending any action that would swell the ranks of the jobless.

In the unexpected event that the railway labor heads should advise their men to walk out, subject to referendum vote there would be immediate action, since weeks would be required to compile the vote of many of the unions which as yet had not registered their opinion regard-

The executive board of the shoemakers union, which already has voted down the wage slash had decided to order a walkout at present but to ask the railway board to reconsider its action and to hear new evidence. The leaders of this union, the largest of all the railway workers organizations, have indicated that a five per cent wage cut might be acceptable.

Conferences among the union leaders were on in earnest.

TO BE SUIT YEAR

In Dressy Tailors Clinging
Fabrics Are in Vogue.Outfits Are Equipped With Coats
Which Have Mandarin Tendency
In Many Instances.It is to be a suit year. For several seasons, observes a fashion authority, the one-piece dress has crowded the tailored suit out of its rightful place and the dressy suit almost out of the picture.This year the suit has come back in dress, and semi-dressy tailors the clinging fabrics are the vogue, with coats which have a mandarin tendency in many instances. Quite a new note has crept in with the binding of the edges with ribbons of a matching color or of black. Crepe de chine linings are used in very high colors.Three-piece suits are also a popular tendency. Loose coats or capes form the wraps with matching skirts and high-colored bodies of crepe de chine and the coat lined to match the bodice.
Black and navy blue will be the favorites for such a use.In the very severely tailored trautours English tweeds are being shown in gray and tans, depending almost entirely for their beauty upon the quality of the material.In street dresses, which, by the way, are to retain their familiar straight lines and slim silhouettes, black, navy blue, gray and beige are being shown by the best shops, the heaviness of the material being lightened for spring wear by the application of touches of Tailored Suit of Navy Tricotine.

organdie and batiste. A few are elaborated in a novel fashion by the use of French knots embroidered upon the material in a very fine black or navy blue. Bright-colored embroidery and beads are passe.

MUST HAVE TOUCH OF RIBBON

Paris Edict Is That Every Frock Must Make Use of the Dangling Strands.This is a ribbon year, says Paris, and every smart frock, in foundation or finish, should have its touch of ribbon. Ribbons are found in a great variety of designs suited for every possible use, but the smartest of them will invariably be the one of transparent variety.Certain smart spring frocks boast of panels of ribbon. There are broad ribbon panels at the sides and narrow floating panels are caught under the hem at the bottom of the skirt.A smart variation of a georgette model has a vest-like bodice made of wide brocade ribbon. Shirtings of a very narrow width head the skirt and outline a source.Girdles, of course, will make the most of ribbon. A unique new girdle, straight from Paris, is made of wide crepe de chine ribbon printed in an oriental design. The ribbon encircles the waist twice and ties at the left side with a short loop above the waistline and a long one below. The end, longer than either of the loops, is thrown over the top.A rather narrow strip of purple and gold ribbon has a wreath of flowers made of ribbon in pastel shades combined with wheat heads.Black with ribbon makes a very modern and becoming rail. The loops of ribbon are wider toward the back where it is finished by streamered ends.Naturally one would expect to find lots of ribbon designed to be carried with ribbon costumes. There are many of them and all are beautiful. One corsetive bag of brown tulle ribbon is made with four panels. At the top of the bag are overlapping panels which with pleated ends ribbon.

Ribbon Favorite.

Ribbon, one of the most modern of all, will this year be used in possible ways. Black silk neck ribbons will be worn with black evening suits with beading and matching neckties.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 1, 1921.

NEGRO AND JAP CENSUS.

Among the most interesting announcements of the Census Bureau as to the racial composition of this country's population in 1920 are those giving the increase of the Japanese on the Pacific coast and the increase of negroes in northern and western states. The Japs led all other classes in rate of numerical growth during the past ten years, increasing 53.9 per cent. This shows that the Japanese, in spite of the handicap of exclusion regulations, are steadily gaining a foothold in this country through the "picture bride" and other devices and by stealing across the Mexican border. California alone had 71,952 of this class of aliens on January 1, 1920. Obviously, this more than doubling of our Japanese population in the past decade is an unwelcome showing, for the greater the increase on the Pacific coast or elsewhere the more inter-racial friction and consequent strife.

The white population of the United States increased 16 per cent, a falling off from the 22.3 per cent of the previous decade attributed to the effects of the world war, including slackened immigration. In the whole country the negroes increased 6.6 per cent, three-fourths of this gain being in the north and west, although 55 per cent of the negro population is still in the south. The percentage of negro increase in the west was 55.8 per cent in the north, 43.3 per cent, and the south only 1.9 per cent, showing how great has been the exodus of blacks from the south in recent years. The 472,418 increase of the negro population of the north and west in the past ten years was in very considerable part from this source. Michigan's negro population increased 251 per cent, that of Ohio and Illinois 67.1 per cent, and Pennsylvania's 45.7 per cent, the last state named now having a greater negro population than either Maryland or Kentucky. Although some of the migrating blacks are said to have returned to the south, it may be accepted as a certain that the negro populations of the north and west will go on increasing.

REDSKIN PLUTOCRATS.

The Osage Indians are not only the richest people per capita in the world but every man, woman and child of them is a person of means. For a hundred years they have been parting with their holdings on very profitable terms, having long been known as the moneyed aristocrats among American Indians. And now, in addition, an auction sale of 30,000 acres of oil lands, with a bonus of a sixth of the oil produced from the lands, will bring an income of $10,000 a year, it is estimated, to each of the 2,000 members of the tribe.

This is a misfortune rather than a blessing, for we read that long since the affluence of the Osages has proved demoralizing, encouraging idleness and debauchery as well as extravagance and resulting in an enfeebled and relatively effeminate remnant of a once powerful tribe—a remnant upon which both their ancestors and the other warrior clans of old would look with scorn. We read that they need nothing so much as to be saved from themselves and from unscrupulous persons scheming to get large shares of their money. Unsurpassed by the need of education, without even a love of sports, and with no intellectual interests, the rich Osages are unfortunate indeed. They would be much better off if they were compelled to earn their daily bread in the sweat of their brows.

In announcing that he had invited a number of western barbers to meet him at the White House for a conference, President Harding took occasion to deny intimations that a previous conference with New York barbers indicated that Wall Street is running the administration. There was no need for a denial, for no one would credit the insinuation. Moreover, the country will heartily approve the policy of bringing to the capital and to the White House the leading business men of the nation, bankers or otherwise. We have had eight years of an administration that kept aloof from the people—an administration that was so self-sufficient that conferences were apparently held only with men who would agree with the president and echo his every word. The country expects Mr. Harding to keep in touch with the condition and thought and desire and needs of the people in all sections and of all classes. The country has a very high regard for Mr. Harding's character, and due appreciation of his ability, but there is no delusion that he is a superman. His conferences are an indication that he is not under a delusion, either, and this in itself increases the confidence of the country in his administration.

SO GO THROUGH TO NAPANOCH

Come From Dannemora, Handcuffed in Pairs And Are Taken In Busses To What Is Now Institution. For Criminal Mental Defectives.

Fifty inmates of the Clinton state prison at Dannemora, all serving sentences for felony, were transferred Thursday to the former Eastern New York Reformatory at Napanoch, which is now a state institution for mental defectives.

The fifty prisoners, in charge of six officers from Dannemora prison, arrived in Kingston in a special Delaware & Hudson passenger coach which was attached to the West Shore train reaching Kingston at 4:45 o'clock.

Dr. W. N. Thayer, warden of the Napanoch institution, met the contingent at the West Shore station and they were transferred to two motor busses which are in use on the Kingston-Elleville and the Elleville-Mountaindale routes. They left the station at 7:10 p. m., standard time, and expected to reach Napanoch in little more than an hour.

All the prisoners transferred to Napanoch on Thursday were young men and boys. Several negroes were among them. The prisoners were handcuffed in pairs and the process of de-training and boarding the busses was somewhat slow. A number of city policemen were on hand to prevent any trouble and to keep in order the large crowd which gathered to see the transfer.

Several of the prisoners in Thursday's contingent are second offenders. One of them had served a term at the Dannemora prison when Dr. Thayer was connected with that institution a number of years ago before coming to Napanoch. He recognized Dr. Thayer and exclaimed, "I'm in again, doctor. Foot slipped on a banana peel again. Just couldn't help it."

On arrival at the Napanoch institution, the fifty prisoners were given their supper and then placed in cells for the night. The officers from Dannemora enjoyed supper at Shanley's Hotel, where they remained for the night.

The Napanoch institution, which ceased to exist as a reformatory on June 30 and became an institution for criminal mental defectives on July 1, now has 113 inmates. Fifty eight of that number were transferred from the State Custodial School at Rome, one was transferred from the House of Refuge at Randall's Island, four were received on Wednesday from the hospital connected with the Dannemora prison and fifty were received Thursday night from Dannemora.

There are cell accommodations for 500 prisoners in the Napanoch prison, but with slight changes by which the dormitory system could be installed the prison capacity could be increased easily to accommodate 1,200 inmates.

Governor Miller, accompanied by Senator Charles J. Hewitt of Cayuga county, chairman of the senate finance committee, and Assemblyman Joseph A. McGinnies of Chautauque county, chairman of the assembly ways and means committee, who have been making a tour of state institutions, visited the Napanoch institution on Wednesday of last week, afterward dining at Yama Farms Inn, where they spent the night.

GEORGES' STOCK GOES HIGHER

And Odds on Dempsey Are Hammered Down to 2 to 1—All Is in Readiness For "The Battle of the Century" Tomorrow.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 1.—The stage is set for the big international battle between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier.

Everything is in readiness. The monster arena in Jersey has been completed. The ring in which Jack and Georges will meet is hidden under a tarpaulin awaiting the "morning." The metropolitan district is teeming with fight fans from all points of the compass. The fighters themselves have finished training. They are in condition. They await the zero hour.

The only uncertain factor connected with the big fight is the weather. Forecasters, both here and in Washington, have promised sunshine Saturday, but the muggy weather that broke over this section of the country last Tuesday still continues and prospects of its passing were none too bright early today.

With more than a million dollars already in the coffers of Promoter Tex Rickard, according to a statement issued from his office, the seat sale continues, though not as briskly as it might have been had it not been for the appearance of counterfeit tickets. Would-be purchasers of tickets have become wary as a result of repeated warnings against the bogus seats checks that have been put in circulation and as a result some ticket agencies have begun to sell the genuine pasteboards for less than their face value. Along Broadway last night $50 seats were to be had in some instances for $40 and $45. These seats, for the most part, were brought back from outside points where ticket agents contracted for more than they could dispose of. Ten dollars seats were offered for $9 in several instances.

Despite the effect of the drive of the counterfeiters it is a practical certainty that the big arena at Boyles Thirty Acres will be filled, almost to capacity, when the fighters answer the bell.

The reformers who made several unsuccessful attempts to put a stop to the battle have fired their last big salvo without result. Governor Edwards of New Jersey has announced that the law of the state and that it will be held as scheduled in spite of all opposition.

The usual "before the battle" statements, breathing confidence, have been issued from the camps of the rival fighters.

Champion Jack Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, who will leave Atlantic City today for Jersey City, announce that "they" expect to win within a few rounds.

Challenger Georges Carpentier, through Manager Francois Deschamps, admits that he was never in better shape and says he will win though he would not attempt to predict how long he will have had their final say. They have painted both Dempsey and Carpentier as "worried" or "free from worry" in "excellent condition" or "doubtful condition." They have weighed every chance either man may have, reviewed their records, combed fight history for comparisons that might be used to sizing up the rivals and exhausted vocabularies and wits. Like the fighters they now await the bell.

The fact that there has been comparatively little betting on this fight to date is probably due to overproduction in the way of publicity. The fight fan who thinks he knows something and is almost ready to back his judgment with cash suddenly hears disquieting arguments and rumors that bring him to a halt.

Up to the present week Champion Dempsey has been a prime favorite to win at 3 to 1, but Georges Carpentier's stock came up so rapidly within the last few days that the odds have been hammered down and today 2 and 2½ to 1 was about the best one could get if he wanted to back Carpentier.

There are a few staunch backers of the champion with plenty of cash to wager, however, who are willing to take flyers on his chances and many sizable bets will be recorded along Broadway today and at the ringside tomorrow.

One man who will be very much at the ringside tomorrow, and who's part in the big battle is almost as important as that of the fighters themselves is Harry Ertle, the referee.

Ertle's selection as the third man in the ring met with general satisfaction. He is known to be capable, honest and fearless. He is young, can get around, and he knows the rules of "Queensbury." But prospects in advance of the fight indicate that he will face the most important task of refereeing that any third man in a heavyweight championship has ever faced.

The vast difference in style of the rival fighters will make Ertle's job a real one. Dempsey's hurricane attack and Carpentier's swift, lightning-like punches may not be easy to follow. The chance of a foul being committed by one of the fighters is admitted and it will be up to Ertle to render swift, unquestionable judgment. He must also see to it that the rules of the New Jersey Boxing Commission as regards bandages, gloves, etc., are strictly adhered to and he must keep an eye upon the men behind the fighters as well.

The gloves Dempsey and Carpentier will use must be eight-ounce gloves, in accordance with the New Jersey laws. The ring in which they will battle will be a 20-foot ring, somewhat smaller than that in which Dempsey and Willard met at Toledo.

Both the size of the gloves and the size of the ring may prove factors in the big fight. Dempsey, wearing eight ounce gloves, knocked Fred Fulton cold in less than a round at Newark, so it is not believed that the size of the gloves will have much if anything to do with softening his punches. The size of the ring is in his favor, according to consensus of opinion, because Carpentier, it is said, will make a running fight for the first few rounds. In this event the larger the better for Georges Carpentier and his handlers, however, are said to have agreed readily to a 20-foot ring. Georges has been boxing in a sixteen foot affair at Manhasset and he will feel that he has plenty of room in a ring about four feet larger all round.

Coster Has Matches.

Local boxing fans who know personally Benny Coster, the fast bantam, and have seen him in contests at the Pioneer Boxing Club in the Bronx, who in all probability will be matched to meet Joe Lynch, world's bantamweight champion, at the Boxing Dome on July 12, has been matched to box Billy Marlowe at the Steeplechase A. A. of Rockaway Beach on July 8, and some other good bantam at Ebnetts Field on July 18. It is probable that Jack Sharkey or Abe Friedman will be Coster's opponent at Ebnetts Field.

What do you want to know about nature subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper. Look for answers in this column.

(Can You Answer These Questions?)

1. What are fairy rings?
2. Do rattlesnakes eat snakes?
3. Can swans sing? What is meant by a "swan song"?

Answers in Tomorrow's Nature Notes

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. Of what use is a drone? Does a drone take any part in the fertilization of the queen bee's eggs?

The drone is essential to the queen's ability to lay fertilized eggs. She can, before mating, lay unfertilized eggs that develop into drones, but her power to lay fertilized eggs, producing worker bees depends on her having mated with a drone. Oddly enough, even after mating, the queen can at will lay either kind of egg, thus keeping the swarm supplied with both workers and drones.

2. What snakes are there in the United States that are capable of capturing and devouring an animal as large as a small rabbit?

Several varieties of rattlesnakes will eat a rabbit, as the Banded, Diamond-back, and Western Diamond. The Pilot black snake does also, as do the Pine and Bull snakes (constrictors) and the deadly moccasin snake.

3. At what rate do the following birds fly, goldfinch, catbird, ground sparrow, wild canary, robin, bluebird, vesper sparrow and house wren?

There is no authentic statement on the average rate of speed for most birds, even the United States Biological Survey stating that no real data is available to judge by. It is roughly estimated that in the northward migration in spring the smaller land birds do not go faster than 20 miles an hour in daylight, but that they can fly a little faster at night.

ESOPUS

Esopus, June 30.—Preaching service at the Methodist Church next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. G. E. Wright, D. D. Sunday school at 2:30. Epworth League, devotional meeting at 7:30. Topic, "Thy Kingdom Come in the World." Leader, Harlowe McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ronk, Miss Margaret Ronk and Anderson Ronk of Walkkill, N. Y. last Sunday.

Miss Margaret Sheehan of Kingston was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. House.

Mrs. Percy M. Mott received a message on Saturday informing her of the death of a very dear friend, Miss Lillian Burrell, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. On Sunday Mrs. Mott went to Mt. Vernon to pay a visit of condolence to the afflicted family. The funeral services were held on Tuesday. The deceased is survived by her father and mother, one sister and three brothers.

In giving the list of guests at the birthday party of Miss Mary Hall the writer failed to mention the name of little Gloria Swanson.

Mrs. Frank Ritz and two children, Virginia and Eugene, of New York city, are occupying the house of Daniel Freer on West street for the summer months. Mr. Ritz will spend the week ends with his family.

Mrs. Harlowe McLean returned from a short visit to the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Moore, of Samosville, on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Best, Harlowe McLean and cousin, Mary Sheeley, motored to High Falls and to Marlinton to call upon friends Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Earl Signor and son, Harold, of Pepacton, N. Y., and Mrs. Wesley Benjamin of High Falls, N. Y., were week end guests of their sister, Mrs. Elmer Lund. On Saturday they enjoyed an outing at Kingston Point Park.

Mrs. Amy Sheeley spent last week in Newburgh at the home of her son, Leo Sheeley. During her stay she attended commencement exercises at one of the grammar schools of that city. Her granddaughter, Florence Sheeley, was one of the graduates. The class numbered two hundred and fifty-six. Miss Sheeley will enter the high school next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freer have sold their home in this village to Mr. Busby of Long Island, and will in the immediate future erect a fine bungalow upon their farm in West Esopus, where they will take up their residence. Mr. Busby's son recently purchased the home of the late John L. Schultz and wishing to be near his son, the father sold his property on Long Island and selected the place of Mr. Freer, which is opposite the home of his son.

John Schultz of St. Remy was a business caller in Esopus on Tuesday morning.

The copious rainfall during Wednesday night was very thankfully accepted by the inhabitants of this village, as the dry weather was getting to be a serious matter. Garden plants were nearly ruined, most of the cisterns without water and danger of the well water supply shortly being exhausted.

KERHONKSON.

Kerhonkson, June 30.—The annual July 4th celebration of the village will be held this year at the Reformed Church. A splendid chicken dinner will be served from 5 to 8 o'clock for 10 cents a plate. ## WALDEN CHURCH TREASURER FINED

An interesting income tax question has come up which may grow into large proportions. At the meeting of the official board of the Walden M. E. Church Tuesday night G. H. Leeming, as treasurer of the church, paid a fine of $5 under protest. The fine was for alleged failure to report to the income tax department the amount of the salary of the minister, the Rev. Walter H. Lofthouse.

While the pastor is paid by the church members, he is in reality engaged by the conference. The district superintendent will take the matter up with the New York conference and Attorney Van Benschoten, who will probably take the matter direct to Commissioner Irwin.

The outcome of this test case will interest pastors of churches of all denominations, secretaries and officials of Y. M. C. A.'s and all salaried officials who are employed by organizations of any kind.—Walden Citizen-Herald.

FORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, July 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Traver of the Isle of Pines, are visiting Mr. Traver's sister, Mrs. Emma Post, on Bayard street and also called on old friends in Port Ewen.

Mrs. George Rappleyea who has been spending a few days at the home of her mother Mrs. Katherine Whalen, has returned to her home in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Mary Van Aken of Green street is visiting her sisters, Mrs. John Relyea and Mrs. Dinah Du Bois in Springtown for a few days.

A miscellaneous shower was given Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Howe Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Lapine on Green street. Refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Howe were the recipients of many useful articles. A jolly good time was had by all.

The members of the choir of the Methodist Episcopal Church will meet at the church promptly at 7:30 o'clock, Sunday evening for rehearsal. Professor T. H. Richards will be in charge.

Mrs. J. W. Matthews of Newburgh is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews on Hamilton street.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Reformed Church, express their appreciation and thanks to all who helped in every way to make their recent entertainment both pleasant and profitable. Both societies, Bloomington and Port Ewen, realized a little over $25 each for their treasuries. Many thanks to our friends.

First Oriental Rugs.

Rugs in the Orient are mentioned by classical writers of a very early period. There are some rare specimens in the museum at Cairo, Egypt, which date from at least 1180 B. C.

"CUT OUTS" ARE NOW FORBIDDEN

Under the new motor vehicle law which took effect today, which transfers the automobile bureau from the secretary of state's office to the state commission the motor vehicle year is changed from February 1 to January 1, and chauffeurs will be licensed from July to July, except during the first six months of 1922, when licenses will run from January to July 1. Beginning today "cut outs" are prohibited, and omnibuses capable of carrying ten persons must be equipped with approved fire extinguishers. As has been before stated in the Freeman license plates have been placed in the hands of county clerks for distribution. The office of records will remain at Albany, former Assemblyman Bert Lord of Chenango having taken over the directorship of the entire automobile bureau.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, July 1.—Lawyer H. W. Coons and family have returned from a week stay at Beaver Dam and report a good time and fine fishing.

Carl Johnson and wife, of Brooklyn are spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johnson. Mrs. Christie Sherry of East Orange, N. J. is spending some time at the home of Mr. Sherry's parents on upper Center street.

A record attendance marked the resumption of the Ellenville High School Alumni gathering at Hunt Memorial Thursday evening, the first since 1917. Judge Cunningham, the last president, presided at the business meeting, when William L. Douglas was elected president; Mrs. Cleon B. Murray, vice-president; Miss Pauline Taylor, secretary; and Bernice Gray, treasurer. The chicken dinner served by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. was enjoyed by over 100 guests. Mance's orchestra furnished music and the large number, who participated in the dancing said that it was great. An interesting entertainment followed the service of menu in charge of Mrs. W. D. Cunningham and the various numbers were received with appreciative applause. It was a pleasant affair abounding with good fellowship and the reunion spirit.

COWS AND CALVES.

"I can't understand it," said Molly Cow. "What can't you understand?" asked Milly Cow. "I fancy there is a good deal you can't understand. Moo, moo, that's a joke!"

"That is a joke, moo, moo," said Maggie Cow. "I imagine, too, there is a good deal you can't understand, as there is a good deal every cow cannot understand. What is it, Molly Cow? Do tell us."

Molly Cow turned her head around and saw a fly upon her back. Then she swished her tail and drove the fly away. It came back again, but this time Molly Cow didn't bother about it.

"We have a lively time here by this quiet brook or stream or whatever it is called," said Molly Cow.

"Quite true," said Milly Cow. "Quite true," agreed Maggie Cow.

"The brook is so peaceful. The rocks and pebbles and stones lie so peacefully at the bottom of the brook. The water is clear and the pebbles can look up at the sky if they want to, and not all pebbles can do that."

"At least I don't think all pebbles can do that."

"I don't believe they can, moo, moo," said Milly Cow.

"I don't believe they can, moo, moo," said Maggie Cow.

"The trees along the sides of the brook are very peaceful and quiet, too," continued Molly Cow. "Sometimes they blow about a bit for excitement, but not often."

"The grass is lovely and green and soft and good to chew. Altogether life is very pleasant."

"Very pleasant, moo, moo," said Milly Cow.

"Very pleasant, indeed, moo, moo," said Maggie Cow.

"We have beautiful little calves with us here," said Molly Cow. "They are dear, beautiful creatures, with big eyes

"Not Interested."

and lovely expressions. They are quiet and gentle and they are so sensible. They don't like excitement."

"They take after their mothers," said Milly Cow.

"Like sensible dears," said Maggie Cow.

"They don't want to be always rushing this way and that," said Molly Cow. "They're quite pleased and contented to stay still and chew."

"We've seen the springtime come without moving. That is, we haven't moved much. We've seen beautiful white blossoms on the trees and violets by the stream. We've seen the leaves come out and the spring has been a beautiful sight."

"We've felt the nice warm air. But we haven't gone forth to meet the spring. We haven't run along to see it as soon as we could."

"We waited until it came to us, as all creatures should do who want to be quiet and peaceful as we are."

"The spring won't hurry because any one is rushing after it. And now we will see the summer and it will be a pleasant sight."

"We haven't many interests in life. We don't care for toys or games or anything of that sort. We don't care to do many things. We're not interested in adventures as dogs and cats are."

"We don't like to go off running and trotting like horses do."

"We don't care to go South in the winter and North in the summer as the birds do. We don't care to dig holes for ourselves in the ground and go to sleep all winter as the wood chucks do."

"We haven't many interests."

"True, we have not," said Milly Cow.

"Quite true," said Maggie Cow.

"But what I can't understand," said Milly Cow, "is how creatures can rush along in these automobiles. They go so fast. Gracious, it is enough to scare a poor, quiet cow. Just to see them go by!"

"Spring won't come to them any sooner and neither will summer, because they go rushing along as they do. It is far better to be quiet and peaceful like the cows and calves are, and to chew one's happy, calm way through life!"

THE ODORIFEROUS BULB.

The essential oil which is so pronounced in the onion makes it invaluable as a flavor vegetable.

Scrambled Onions.—Wash, cut up and cook in boiling water two or three bunches of young green onions. Allow the water to cook away leaving just enough to prevent burning. In a frying pan place a tablespoonful of bacon fat; add to this as many eggs as needed to serve, let cook until the whites are set, then gently scramble with the onions, season and serve. Cold boiled onions may be used, adding a tablespoonful of milk for each egg used.

Young Onions With Egg Sauce.—Chop young onions and cook until tender in milk. Drain and thicken the milk with one tablespoonful of flour smoothed in a well-beaten egg. Add butter and two hard-cooked eggs, chopped.

Onion Soup, French.—Brown six large sliced onions in two tablespoonfuls of butter, then sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of flour, stirring until the flour is browned. Thin with a quart of meat stock or liquor left from cooked peas; stir until creamy. Season with pepper and salt, simmer 15 minutes, put through a sieve and serve with croutons. Add a sprinkling of cheese if desired.

Onion Chowder.—Wash, peel and chop enough onions to make one pint. Prepare enough potatoes to fill a quart measure. Place the onions in a kettle holding three quarts of boiling water, cook thirty minutes, add the potatoes, season with salt and pepper and cook one hour longer. While cooking season with a teaspoonful each of parsley, chervil and sweet peppers; add two tablespoonfuls of butter. To increase the food values add all or part milk instead of the water.

Baked Stuffed Onions.—Parboil large-sized onions and remove the centers. Chop the part removed, add sausage or other highly seasoned meat, salt and pepper or chopped nuts. Bake, basting during the baking with butter and water, or pour over the onions thin cream. Bake until tender.

"HOURS DRAG," SAYS CHAMPION

(By Sid Mercer)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Atlantic City, N. J., July 1.—This was get away day for Champion Jack Dempsey.

The "big moment," of course, is still many hours removed, but the title holder has been released from the hard work of training at last and was scheduled to train for Jersey City and the scene of his battle with Carpentier some time this afternoon. The exact hour of his leaving was not definitely announced, nor was the location of his temporary quarters in Jersey City.

"Gee, the hours surely drag," said Dempsey, "only forty-eight more hours and I'll tell you all you want to know about it. I'll be an expert on the eve of the most prominent event of his life that Dempsey has no nerves, but they are the nerves of a boy brimming over with eagerness, impatience and fond anticipation. A man of fifty might approach such a situation with few outward signs to betray his feelings, but that is not the way of youth."

The boys around Airport spend no little time now discussing the battle of Saturday. Some one mentioned a prominent critic's prediction that Dempsey would win in less than two minutes. Jack would not venture a prediction.

"A fight's a fight," he said, stroking his bristly chin stubble, which by the way, he will wear into the ring. "You never can tell what kind of a fight you are going to make until you get there. I'll tell you more on Saturday when I hang this on his chin."

Suiting the action to the word he brought up his hairy right and clipped himself gently on the chin with the big fist. That is as near as we ever heard Dempsey come to boasting.

CARPENTIER ON SCREEN HERE

George Carpentier, the French champion, who is heavyweight champion of Europe, may not carry the championship from Jack Dempsey at Jersey City tomorrow, but he will be shown here in pictures tonight and tomorrow, when he will be pictured in "The Wonder Man" at the Kingston Opera House.

A keen insight into his character and methods is given in his series of "Don'ts For Fighters."

Don't overtrain—I have found it harmful to work too hard while training.

Don't let the brain get rusty while hardening your muscles—think out your plan of battle.

Don't show your uneasiness if you feel that way—enter the ring with a smile.

Don't be shy—on entering the ring go to your opponent's corner and shake his hand; forget the audience.

Don't forget to study your opponent while waiting for the bell. If he shows signs of nervousness, that should be your tip to appear sure and confident.

Don't lose your temper.

Don't fight with bitterness, but with determination.

Don't crowd your opponent should you knock him down—give him a chance to get up.

Don't get flustered when you have your man "grogy"—take time to measure and place a decisive blow.

Don't be in too great a hurry if you are scored—think a way out of your difficulty.

Don't let an opponent see he has hurt you.

Don't sulk if you are beaten—shake your conqueror's hand and remember there's no disgrace in honorable defeat.

Re-Populate Jockey Hill.

Bruno Diez, proprietor of the Idle Hour Inn on the Ashokan boulevard near West Hurley, has purchased of Samuel M. Gray of this city about 227 acres of land on Jockey Hill. Mr. Diez who purchased at different times several of the old houses in the Stony Hollow section which he had reconstructed into dwellings which he sold to New York parties for summer homes, intends to start construction in the very near future of a number of bungalows on his latest purchase. These he will dispose of to New York and Brooklyn people who were former residents of Jockey Hill and neighborhood when that section was prosperous. Many moved away to New York and have since acquired a competency and they or their grown up children have signified a desire to Mr. Diez to move back to the scene of their earlier days and live a retired life. This will be good news to the remaining residents of Jockey Hill and the Sawkill neighborhood who hope that it will not be long before it will be a settled fact that the Sawkill road will be improved as a county highway. The deplorable state of the Sawkill road is a great bar to the development of this section into becoming a fine summer resort.

St. Joseph's School Graduates.

A large and enthusiastic audience witnessed the closing exercises of St. Joseph's School, held in St. Joseph's School Hall on last Sunday afternoon. Walsh and Catherine M. Weber. The gold medal for the highest per cent in Christian Doctrine was awarded Helen A. McCann. Ten dollars in gold was awarded Marion E. Tunney whose average, 92.4-7%, was the highest in the class. Maurice Blake was awarded ten dollars in gold for having the highest average of the boys. His average was 85.6-7%.

DE VALERA AND GRIFFITH CONFER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Dublin, July 1.—A secret council was held today by the highest chiefs of the Sinn Féin to consider Premier Lloyd-George's proposal for an Irish peace parley in London.

Among those in attendance were Eamon De Valera, "president of the Irish republic," Arthur Griffith, founder and president of the Sinn Féin and Dr. MacNeill, "the diplomatic brains of the republicans." Leaders of lesser importance were called in.

It was believed that the republican chieftains considered the advisability of sending a second invitation to Sir James Craig to come to Dublin to confer with De Valera. Sir James Craig is premier of Ulster. Griffith and MacNeill were released from Mount Joy prison yesterday so that they could confer with De Valera on peace.

Officialdom at Fight.

Washington, July 1.—The capitol will be largely deserted tomorrow. It was estimated today that several hundred members of Congress, officials of the government and leaders of social life in Washington will be at the ringside in Jersey City, where Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier meet for the world's heavyweight championship. A large number of congressmen are going up, fifty going on a special car, with a block of seats reserved for them.

JOHN STOUT HAS WON FENCE CASE

In Supreme Court But Hiltbrant Company Has Appealed to Appellate Division Over Fencing of Street in South Rondout.

Justice Nichols has handed down a decision in favor of John Stout against the C. Hiltbrant Dry Dock Company in the famous South Rondout "fence case." During all the various proceedings Mr. Stout has been represented by Chris. J. Flanagan with Frank W. Brooks of counsel, while the Hiltbrant Company was represented by Amos Van Etten.

This is the case which has created considerable talk over in South Rondout. In June of 1920 Justice Hiltbrant granted an injunction against the Hiltbrant Company to restrain them from fencing off Center street, which is a street that runs from the village to the old dock landing.

The Hiltbrant Company appealed from the injunction order to the appellate division which unanimously upheld the injunction. Then the case itself was brought to trial before Justice Nichols in supreme court without a jury, and by his decision the injunction is made permanent.

However, the Hiltbrant Company have appealed from Justice Nichols' decision to the appellate division.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 1.—The stock market showed an irregular tone at the opening this morning with only small changes in either direction. The Mexican Oil issues were again under pressure in the first ten minutes. Mexican Petroleum started 1/2 higher at 101 1/2, and then fell to yesterday's low record of 98 1/2, while Pan-American fell 1 1/2 to 42 1/2 and General Asphalt dropped 1 1/2 to 48 1/2. United Steel was 1/2 lower at 74 1/2 and fractional losses were sustained in the other steel shares. United States Rubber broke 1/4 to 52. The railroad shares were generally higher, Chicago and Northwestern showing a gain of one point at 65.

There were mixed movements in the market in the late forenoon but the trading was almost wholly confined to the professional members on the floor and to some of the up-town bear plungers. Mexican Petroleum dropped to 96, a loss of 5 1/2 points. General Asphalt and Pan-American were in supply at declines but rallied from the lowest price levels. U. S. Rubber yielded three points to 49 1/2. Baldwin moved up to 71 1/2 and then reacted to 70 1/2. Southern Pacific advanced one point to 74 1/2.

The little feature to the market in the late afternoon, Mexican Petroleum after its decline to 96 rallied to 100 1/2 and then reacted to 98 1/2. Pan-American Petroleum was in good demand moving up from 42 to 44 1/2, more than recovering its early loss. General Asphalt rallied over one point to above 49. The railroad stocks became heavy after mid-day. Reading yielded from 68 to 66 1/2 and Southern Pacific fell from 74 1/2 to 73 1/2.

The market closed steady; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

STILLMAN CASE TO DRAG ALONG

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 1.—The Stillman divorce hearings before Referee Gleason here were adjourned shortly after noon today until July 13. James A. Stillman, the multi-millionaire ex-banker suing his wife, Mrs. "Fifi" Potter Stillman, was not put on the witness stand again today, and it was announced by his counsel that according to present plans he would not be called again when the hearing is resumed. Hearings will be held also on July 14 and 15. Then they will be adjourned till July 28 and 29. A recess will be taken through August.

The outlook this afternoon was that the case would drag on through the greater part of fall.

Has a Funny Face.

Dear Sir: Herewith are two recent photos of myself, taken within a minute of each other. One is my natural self; the other shows what I can instantly do with my face even without the help of make-up. Whoever sees it goes into uncontrollable fits of laughter. Is an ability to do this sort of thing, and to keep it up for any time, required in "character acting," likely to be of any use to you? If it always causes instant mirth among my acquaintances (no matter how melancholy they may have been feeling), possibly it might be worth while introducing to the wider circle of the "public." But may I be allowed, the beginning (if such should be my fortune), to bar having blameworthy thrown at it, or myself being dropped in the mud or rolled down stairs, as I am not a gymnast in any form. Just such a "face" like this might be just such as you require for some quiet and quaint really humorous character study.—Application Received by a London Motion Picture Corporation.

"Balm of Gilead."

Balm of Gilead is the name applied to a balm or balsam of Mecca, or of Syria. It is an oleo-resin, once of great repute and still esteemed in the East for its fragrance and medicinal properties. Mixed with oil, it constitutes the chrism of the Roman Catholic church. It is the product of a tree or shrub, "commiphora (balsamodendron) opobalsam," which also yields myrrh. The specific name "balsamodendron gileadense" was given to it because it was once supposed to be the Scriptural "Balm of Gilead"—an opinion probably erroneous, for it does not at present grow in Gilead, either wild or in gardens, nor has it been satisfactorily proved that it ever did. It is still found south of 22 degrees N. latitude on both sides of the Red Sea, in Arabia, Abyssinia and Nubia, though it is not found in Palestine.

Mean Provision in Will.

More than one husband has endeavored to get even with a nagging wife by making some freak provision in his will. Ten years ago the newspapers reported how an English hotel-keeper took a curious revenge on a wife whose sharp tongue had given him many bad days while he lived. He decreed that in order to receive any of his property she must walk barefooted to the market place each time the anniversary of his death came around. Holding a candle she was there to read a paper confessing her unseemly behavior to her husband, and stating that had her tongue been shorter his days would probably have been longer. By refusing to comply with these terms she had to be satisfied with £20 to keep her off the parish.

Played Chess on Plains of Troy.

Chess is one of the most ancient pastimes known to mankind. One of the "Greek legends" ascribes its origin to the epic siege of Troy, 1000 B. C., which is the subject of Homer's Iliad. This weary siege was supposed to have lasted ten years. Long night watches around the campfires of the Greeks were necessary to guard against surprise and night attacks. To enliven these waste hours, Palamedes, one of the Greek host on alien Trojan soil, invented various pastimes for his countrymen, whose spirits so often flagged. Among these he invented the noble game of chess, and kings and castles, knights and pawns, still move in illustration of the greater game which was then being played on the plains of Troy.

Shepherd's Huts on Wheels.

The shepherds of the old world, especially those of France, have gone far from the old methods when their ancestors wandered over the hills with nothing save what they carried on their backs. The shepherds of the neighborhood of the ancient city of Orleans have solved the problem of absence from home for weeks with some degree of comfort. Each shepherd now has a little thatched hut on wheels. In it is a comfortable bed, the provisions he needs, and a little cooking outfit. How the forefathers of these shepherds would stare if they could see how comfortable their descendants are on the very spot where once they were content to wrap themselves in their cloaks and sleep in the driving rain.

Don't Be a Quitter.

It's the way a man sticks to a thing that marks him as a success or failure. Many a fellow has run out at the eleventh hour just because he would not let go. Don't be a quitter.—Farrington.

HAPPENINGS in the BIG CITIES

Settled: "In the Sweet Bye and Bye"

BOSTON.—The oldest suit on the docket of the United States Equity court in Boston, which involved one of the best-known and most popular hymns of America, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," was settled out of court when the Oliver Ditson company paid $56,000 to the estate of Mrs. Joan H. Webster, widow of the author of the hymn, Joseph P. Webster.

The suit arose out of a contract for royalties on the song and was begun in 1906 by Mrs. Webster of Elkhorn, Wis., who has since died. Her son, Louis Webster, was in court.

According to the original bill of complaint filed in court here, Joseph Webster, the author, signed a contract with Lyon & Healy of Chicago on June 9, 1885, by which Webster was to be given royalty of 3 cents on each copy of the hymn sold by the company.

After the Chicago fire of 1871 Lyon & Healy assigned to the then Oliver Ditson & Co. of Boston all interests in their publications. It was understood, the bill says, that Ditson & Co. assumed all royalty obligations as well.

A master heard the suit in 1906 and made a finding for the defendant. No court action was then taken and the case held its place on the court books ever since. The settlement today was without further court proceedings.

It is related that in 1885 Mr. Webster went into the home of his friend, Dr. Samuel F. Bennett, in a most despondent mood. The doctor asked what was the trouble.

"It is no matter, it will be all right by and by," was the reply.

This remark acted as a flash of inspiration to them both. Dr. Bennett immediately sat down and wrote out the verses and Webster composed the music on his violin. Less than an hour later they were singing the song with two friends.

Americans a Most Thriftless People

NEW YORK.—That the United States is one of the most thriftless nations on earth, and that the average American is incompetent and reckless in the spending of his cash, are two disagreeable facts recently emphasized by New York banking concerns after an extensive study of thrift as it does not appear in this country.

Without a budget system, our government squanders money wherever and whenever the whims of congress direct it. And our national waste is faithfully imitated by the individual. The majority of American homes have no budget systems. Household expenses are regulated by the whims of the family, and the bills are considered afterward—usually long afterward.

The following statistics, quoted from a publication of the American Bankers' association, show how pitifully few Americans ever achieve a well-provided-for old age:

"At the age of twenty-five we find in this country 100 men are all strong and vigorous. They have started life physically fit and on a plane of equality."

"Ten years later, 10 are wealthy, 10 are in fair circumstances, 40 have moderate means, while 35 have saved nothing."

"At the age of forty-five the number of wealthy persons has fallen to three, 65 are merely supporting themselves, while 16 have passed into the discard. They are no longer self-supporting."

"At the age of fifty-five, 20 men have died, only one is very wealthy, only six are self-supporting, while 54 are dependent upon their children, upon relatives, or upon charity for support."

"At the age of seventy-five note what has happened: Sixty-three are dead (of those 69 left no property at all), three are well-to-do, 34 are dependent upon their relatives, children or charity for support; 35 per cent of these will not have sufficient means to pay their funeral bills."

Wanted: The Baby Given to a Stranger

CHICAGO.—Sometimes you can read between lines in the "Personal column" of the classified advertising section. Sometimes the story is only suggested—as in the ad that follows:

TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD to lady or persons knowing lady who accepted baby girl at Sheridan p. d. "L" station on Feb. 3, about 9 p. m. Baby was dressed in white flannel, wrapped in cotton blanket, pink wool shawl, and a lady's black fur cloth cape made with vest front. A brown suit case contained clothes. Love came to Dolores working behind her counter in a big store and trapped her. The girl finally told a newspaper about it.

"I loved him and I thought he loved me; he swore to marry me," she said.

"He kissed me very tenderly the day my baby was born. He kissed my finger and said he would get the ring very soon. And he told me not to worry, that he would take care of the baby until I was strong again. He had kind friends who would treat our baby well. I was afraid to part with my baby, but I trusted him."

"We went to the elevated station. A woman was waiting there. I kissed my baby good-by; and I haven't seen her since. He gave me an address in Belmont avenue. I could not find the address. Then I knew I had been duped. I realized I didn't even know where my baby's father lived, or that the name he had given me was his real name."

The reporter asked her questions. Then he found the man, after a long search. He and his wife live near Hubbard Woods. He is not rich, but he is able to pay the $200 reward. He admitted he had given the baby to a stranger.

His wife knows the story now—and perhaps some day he can keep his promise to Dolores.

CARPENTIER IDLE AND SECLUDED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Manhasset, L. I., July.—"No more comment to make. Tomorrow everyone will know all about it."

Gus Wilson, trainer of Georges Carpentier, so answered inquirers at the gates to Matthews Farm today.
The portals were locked more tightly than usual and the veil of secrecy and quiet was thicker than ever.

Carpentier was scheduled to spend the day in practical idleness, it was learned. He has finished his training and is waiting for the hour to arrive
when he will start for Jersey City.
That will be some time tonight or tomorrow morning.

The attitude of Carpentier's handlers is a quietly confident as ever. It is said they have bet quite heavily on his chances of staying the limit with the champion.

TWO PRINCES CLAIM CHATEAU

Historic Building and Grounds Seized by France During War is Demanded.

ROYAL HOME TWO CENTURIES

Louis XV Gave It to Marshal Saxe and Napoleon Presented It to Marshal Berthier—Became Possession of Dukes of Parma.

Paris.—Efforts by two princes of the house of Bourbon-Parma to recover possession of the celebrated Chateau Chambord, which was sequestrated by the French government during the war, is one of the most interesting aftermaths of the great conflict.

The chateau is more than 400 years old and is one of the most striking and interesting of the famous feudal establishments of ancient France.

It was once one of the most magnificent of these great estates and lies in the valley of the Loire close to the town of Blois and has about 15,000 acres, part of which is inclosed by walls extending for 20 miles. The building is about 200 feet square with famous circular towers at the corners and a double spiral staircase leading to the double lantern, which dominates the center tower.

Royal Residence Two Centuries.
It was built about 1526 and for two centuries was a royal residence. Louis XV gave it to Marshal Saxe and Napoleon presented it to Marshal Berthier. Eventually it fell into the possession of the duke of Parma.

At the beginning of the war it was owned by Prince Elias of Bourbon-Parma and was sequestrated because he was serving in the Austrian army as an attaché of the Austrian general staff. Prince Elias is a brother of Emp. Charles of Austria who lately attempted to regain his throne as king of Hungary.

After the war Prince Elias attempted to recover possession of the estate, but the French courts have just disallowed his claim. This, however, does not settle the question of its ownership, for Prince Sixtus, also of Bourbon-Parma, brother of Prince Elias, has put in a claim to the ownership of the chateau.

Princes' Services Refused.

Prince Sixtus does not suffer the disability of Prince Elias, as Sixtus and his brother, Xavier, both offered their services to the French government in the war and being refused on the ground that descendants of the old royal houses could not be permitted to fight for France, they both enlisted in the Belgian army, where they served as stretcherbearers. Their bravery in this service was afterward recognized in a French citation.

Americans will identify Prince Sixtus as the man who received, while the war was still in progress, the famous letter from Emperor Charles of Austria in which he stated that he sympathized with France's aspirations to recover Alsace-Lorraine and that in his opinion Belgium should be restored by Germany.

Prince Sixtus turned the letter over to President Poincaré and its publication by Premier Clemenceau created consternation in Germany. Emperor Charles denied its authenticity.

FARM SANITARY LEAGUE FORMED

Representative Jewish Farmers and Boarding House Keepers of This and Sullivan To Cooperate With Dr. Goodwin in Raising Standards of Living.

Says The Ellenville Journal: Dr. Edward Goodwin, the enterprising and active sanitary supervisor of the Jewish Agricultural and Industrial Aid Society, connected with the Ulster-Sullivan headquarters of the Society in Ellenville, was the attending physician at the birth in Ellenville on the afternoon of June 18th of what we are informed is the only organization of its kind in New York state—the Farmers Sanitary League.

A large company of the most representative Jewish farmers, including representatives all the way from Kingston to Livingston Manor, had come to Ellenville for the expected event, and the gathering was not only harmonious but developed an interest that is auspicious for the future growth and welfare of the newborn infant.

Those present at the organization meeting were not only of the best type of the men who are building homes and establishing business relations in all this mountain region, but they were called together by a mutual feeling that such a society as they were about to inaugurate was demanded for the advancement of the standards of living among the Jewish farm and boarding house population of Ulster and Sullivan, to protect the health and comfort of the thousands of summer guests who flock to these regions, and for the betterment of the various communities in many ways.

Abraham Ellner, a prominent boarding house man and respected citizen of Ferndale, was chosen temporary chairman of the meeting and later was elected as the first president of the society. The other officers are all well known and respected residents of the immediate vicinity of Ellenville—Charles Slutsky, who conducts a large boarding house near Ellenville, vice-president; Jacob Benenson, who was a candidate for justice on the Democratic ticket two years ago, treasurer; Ephraim Yaffe, proprietor of the former Broeze Lawn House at Leunkill, secretary; Dr. Edward Goodwin, sanitary adviser.

The officers and Dr. Goodwin were named as an executive committee and the committee proceeded at once to draw up a sanitary code, which was adopted by the meeting and which every member of the League pledges himself to abide by. A feature of the new movement and which bids fair to prove very valuable not only as a character testimonial but in a practical way, is the fine diploma which will be awarded to all members who live up to the provisions of the sanitary code and who prove themselves especially worthy of recognition. The possession of this diploma will indicate to guests of a house that the owner stands for the best in sanitation and comfort and is worthy of patronage.

The Farmers Sanitary League is absolutely non-sectarian. Its main ideal is to raise the health and san-tation standards of the Shawangunk and Catskill regions with plans for spreading the idea throughout the state. Chapters of the league will be organized in all the farming communities of the state and plans are being formed for a big state convention in the fall. As this will be the first convention, it will probably be held in Ellenville, the birthplace of the Farmers Sanitary League and where is located the unique sanitary exhibit erected by Dr. Goodwin last fall and which has already been visited by many anxious to learn the proper way of constructing the various utilities.

ALL-TROYS HERE ON SATURDAY

Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock at the Athletic Field the fast All-Troys who defeated Sangerties last Sunday will clash with the Colonial A. C. and a snappy game is expected.

Sunday the Colonials travel to Rensselaer where they are scheduled to play the Bonackers.

The Fourth of July there will be a double-header at the Athletic Field here when the Colonials will clash with the Centrals of Albany. The first game will be called at 10:30 in the morning, and the afternoon game at 3:30 o'clock.

Uncle Eben, "he kin be useful. Dar's only one real failure and dat's heart failure."

GEORGES' STOCK GOES HIGHER

And Odds on Dempsey Are Hammered Down to 2 to 1—All is in Readiness for "The Battle of the Century" Tomorrow.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 1.—The stage is set for the big international battle between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier.

Everything is in readiness. The monster arena in Jersey has been completed. The ring in which Jack and Georges will meet is hidden under a tarpaulin, awaiting the "morning." The metropolitan district is teeming with fight fans from all points of the compass. The fighters themselves have finished training. They are in condition. They await the zero hour.

The only uncertain factor connected with the big fight is the weather. Forecasters, both here and in Washington, have promised sunshine Saturday, but the muggy weather that broke over this section of the country last Tuesday still continues and prospects of its passing were none too bright early today.

With more than a million dollars already in the coffers of promoter Tex Rickard, according to a statement issued from his office, the sale continues, though not as briskly as it might have been had it not been for the appearance of counterfeit tickets. Would-be purchasers of tickets have become wary as a result of repeated warnings against the bogus seats checks that have been put in circulation and as a result some ticket agencies have begun to sell the genuine pasteboards for less than their face value. Along Broadway last night $50 seats were to be had in some instances for $40 and $45. These seats, for the most part, were brought back from outside points where ticket agents contracted for more than they could dispose of. Ten dollars seats were offered for $9 in several instances.

Despite the effect of the drive of the counterfeiters it is a practical certainty that the big arena at Boyles Thirty Acres will be filled, almost to capacity, when the fighters answer the bell.

The reformers who made several unsuccessful attempts to put a stop to the battle have fired their last big salvo without result. Governor Edwards of New Jersey has announced that the bout is strictly within the bounds of the law of his state and that it will be held as scheduled in spite of all opposition.

The usual "before the battle" statements, breathing confidence, have been issued from the camps of the rival fighters.

Champion Jack Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns, who will leave Atlantic City today for Jersey City, announce that "they" expect to win within a few rounds.

Challenger Georges Carpentier, through his manager Francois Desamps, admits that he was never in better shape and says he will win though he would not attempt to predict how long the battle will last.

The experts, too, have had their final say. They have painted both Dempsey and Carpentier as "worried" or "free from worry," in "excellent condition" or "doubtful condition." They have weighed every chance either man may have, viewed their records, combed fight history for comparisons that might be used to sizing up the rivals and exhausted vocabularies and wits. Like the fighters they now await the bell.

The fact that there has been comparatively little betting on this fight to date is probably due to over-production in the way of publicity. The fight fan who thinks he knows something and is almost ready to back his judgment with cash suddenly hears disquieting arguments and rumors that bring him to a halt.

Up to the present week Champion Dempsey has been a prime favorite to win at 3 to 1, but Georges Carpentier's stock came up so rapidly within the last few days that the odds have been hammered down and today 2 and 2½ to 1 was about the best one could get if he wanted to back Carpentier.

There are a few staunch backers of the champion with plenty of cash to wager, however, who are willing to take flyers on his chances and many sizable bets will be recorded along Broadway today and at the ringside tomorrow.

One man who will be very much at the ringside tomorrow, and who's part in the big battle is almost as important as that of the fighters themselves is Harry Erbe, the referee.

Erbe's selection as the third man in the ring met with general satisfaction. He is known to be capable, honest and fearless. He is young, can get around, and he knows the rules of "Queensbury." But prospects in advance of the fight indicate that he will face the most important task of refereeing that any third man in a heavyweight championship has ever faced.

The vast difference in style of the rival fighters will make Erbe's job a real one. Dempsey's hardcase attack and Carpentier's swift, lightning-like punches may not be easy to follow. The chance of a foul being committed by one of the fighters is admitted and it will be up to Erbe to render swift, unquestionable judgment. He must also see to it that the rules of the New Jersey Boxing Commission as regards bandages, gloves, etc., are strictly adhered to and he must keep an eye upon the men behind the fighters as well.

The gloves Dempsey and Carpentier will wear must be eight-ounce gloves, in accordance with the New Jersey laws. The ring in which they will battle will be a 28-foot ring, somewhat smaller than that in which Dempsey and Willard met at Toledo.

Both the star of the crowd and the star of the ring may prove factors in the big fight. Dempsey, wearing eight ounce gloves, knocked Fred Fulton out in less than a round at Newark, so it is not believed that the size of the gloves will have much of anything to do with softening his punches. The size of the ring is in his favor, according to consensus of opinion, because Carpentier, it is said, will strike a running fight for the first few rounds. In this event the larger the ring the better for Georges Carpentier and his handlers, however, are said to have agreed readily to a 28-foot ring. Georges has been boxing in a sixteen foot affair at Makhasset and he will feel that he has plenty of room in a ring about four feet larger all round.

Center Man Watches.

Local boxing fans who know personally Benny Coster, the fast bantam, and have seen him in contests at the Pioneer Boxing Club in the Bronx, who in all probability will be matched to meet Joe Lynch, world's bantamweight champion, at the Boxing Dome on July 12, has been matched to box Billy Marston at the Stuyvesant A. A. of Rockaway Beach on July 8, and some other good bantam at Ebbets Field on July 15. It is probable that Jack Courtney or Al Freedman will be Coster's opponent at Ebbets Field.

WALDEN CHURCH TREASURER FINED

An interesting income tax question has come up which may grow into large proportions. At the meeting of the official board of the Walden M. E. Church Tuesday night G. H. Leeming, as treasurer of the church, paid a fine of $5 under protest. The fine was for alleged failure to report to the income tax department the amount of the salary of the minister, the Rev. Walter H. Lofthouse.

While the pastor is paid by the church members, he is in reality engaged by the conference. The district superintendent will take the matter up with the New York conference and Attorney Van Benschoten who will probably take the matter direct to Commissioner Irwin.

The outcome of this test case will interest pastors of churches of all denominations, secretaries and officials of Y. M. C. A.'s and all salaried officials who are employed by organizations of any kind.—Walden Citizen-Herald.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, July 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Traver of the Isle of Pines are visiting Mr. Traver's sister, Mrs. Emma Post, on Bayard street and also called on old friends in Port Ewen.

Mrs. George Rappleyea who has been spending a few days at the home of her mother Mrs. Katherine Whalen, has returned to her home in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Mary Van Aken of Green street is visiting her sisters, Mrs. John Relyea and Mrs. Duah Du Bois in Springtown for a few days.

A miscellaneous shower was given Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Howe Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Lapine on Green street. Refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Howe were the recipients of many useful articles.

A jolly good time was had by all. The members of the choir of the Methodist Episcopal Church will meet at the church promptly at 7:30 o'clock, Sunday evening for rehearsal. Professor T. H. Richards will be in charge.

Mrs. J. W. Matthews of Newburgh is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Matthews on Hamilton street.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Reformed Church, express their appreciation and thanks to all who helped in every way to make their recent entertainment both pleasant and profitable. Both societies, Bloomington and Port Ewen realized a little over $25 each for their treasuries. Many thanks to our friends.

First Oriental Rugs.
Rugs in the Orient are mentioned by classical writers of a very early period. There are some rare specimens in the museum at Cairo, Egypt, which date from at least 1180 B. C.

"CUT OUTS" ARE NOW FORBIDDEN

Under the new motor vehicle law which took effect today, which transfers the automobile bureau from the secretary of state's office to the state commission the motor vehicle year is changed from February 1 to January 1, and chauffeurs will be licensed from July to July, except during the first six months of 1922, when licenses will run from January to July 1. Beginning today "cut outs" are prohibited, and omnibuses capable of carrying ten persons must be equipped with approved fire extinguishers. As has been before stated in the Freeman license plates have been placed in the hands of county clerks for distribution. The office of records will remain at Albany. Former Assemblyman Best Lord of Chenango having taken over the directorship of the entire automobile bureau.

COWS AND CALVES.

"I can't understand it," said Molly Cow. "What can't you understand?" asked Milly Cow. "I fancy there is a good deal you can't understand. Moo, moo, that's a joke!"

"That is a joke, moo, moo," said Maggie Cow. "I imagine, too, there is a good deal you can't understand, as there is a good deal every cow cannot understand. What is it, Molly Cow? Do tell us."

Molly Cow turned her head around and saw a fly upon her back. Then she swished her tail and drove the fly away. It came back again, but this time Molly Cow didn't bother about it.

"We have a lively time here by this quiet brook or stream or whatever it is called," said Milly Cow.

"Quite true," said Molly Cow. "Quite true," agreed Maggie Cow.

"The brook is so peaceful. The rocks and pebbles and stones lie so peacefully at the bottom of the brook. The water is clear and the pebbles can look up at the sky if they want to, and not all pebbles can do that."

"At least I don't think all pebbles can do that."

"I don't believe they can, moo, moo," said Milly Cow.

"I don't believe they can, moo, moo," said Maggie Cow.

"The trees along the sides of the brook are very peaceful and quiet, too," continued Molly Cow. "Sometimes they blow about a bit for excitement, but not often."

"The grass is lovely and green and soft and good to chew. Altogether life is very pleasant."

"Very pleasant, moo, moo," said Milly Cow.

"Very pleasant, indeed, moo, moo," said Maggie Cow.

"We have beautiful little calves with us here," said Molly Cow. "They are dear, beautiful creatures, with big eyes

"Not interested."

and lovely expressions. They are quiet and gentle and they are so sensible. They don't like excitement."

"They take after their mother," said Milly Cow.

"Like sensible dears," said Maggie Cow.

"They don't want to be always rushing this way and that," said Molly Cow. "They're quite pleased and contented to stay still and chew."

"We've seen the springtime come without moving. That is, we haven't moved much! We've seen beautiful white blossoms on the trees and violets by the stream. We've seen the leaves come out and the spring has been a beautiful sight."

"We've felt the nice warm air. But we haven't gone forth to meet the spring. We haven't run along to see it as soon as we could."

"We waited until it came to us as all creatures should do who want to be quiet and peaceful as we are."

"The spring won't hurry because any one is rushing after it. And now we will see the summer and it will be a pleasant sight."

"We haven't many interests in life. We don't care for toys or games or anything of that sort. We don't care to do many things. We're not interested in adventures as dogs and cats are."

"We don't like to go off running and trotting like horses do."

"We don't care to go South in the winter and North in the summer as the birds do. We don't care to dig holes for ourselves in the ground and go to sleep all winter as the wood chucks do."

"We haven't many interests."

"True, we have not," said Milly Cow.

"Quite true," said Maggie Cow.

"But what I can't understand," said Milly Cow, "is how creatures can rush along in these automobiles. They go so fast. Gracious, it is enough to scare a poor, quiet cow, just to see them go by!"

"Spring won't come to them any sooner and neither will summer, because they go rushing along as they do. It is far better to be quiet and peaceful like the cows and calves are, and to chew one's happy, calm way through life."

THE ODORIFEROUS BULB.

The essential oil which is so pronounced in the onion makes it invaluable as a flavor vegetable.

Scrambled Onions.—Wash, cut up and cook in boiling water two or three bunches of young green onions. Allow the water to cook away, leaving just enough to prevent burning. In a frying pan place a tablespoonful of bacon fat; add to this as many eggs as needed to serve, let cook until the whites are set, then gently scramble with the onions, season and serve. Cold boiled onions may be used, adding a tablespoonful of milk for each egg used.

Young Onions With Egg Sauce.—Chop young onions and cook until tender in milk. Drain and thicken the milk with one tablespoonful of flour smoothed in a well-beaten egg. Add butter and two hard-cooked eggs, chopped.

Onion Soup, French.—Brown six large sliced onions in two tablespoonfuls of butter, then sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of flour, stirring until the flour is browned. Thin with a quart of meat stock or liquor left from cooked peas; stir until creamy. Season with pepper and salt, simmer 15 minutes, put through a sieve and serve with croutons. Add a sprinkling of cheese if desired.

Onion Chowder.—Wash, peel and chop enough onions to make one pint. Prepare enough potatoes to fill a quart measure. Place the onions in a kettle holding three quarts of boiling water; cook thirty minutes, add the potatoes, season with salt and pepper and cook one hour longer. While cooking season with a teaspoonful each of parsley, chervil and sweet peppers; add two tablespoonfuls of butter. To increase the food values add all or part milk instead of the water.

Baked Stuffed Onions.—Parboil large sized onions and remove the centers. Chop the part removed, add sausage or other highly seasoned meat, salt and pepper or chopped nuts. Bake, basting during the baking with butter and water, or pour over the onions thin cream. Bake until tender.

"HOURS DRAG," SAYS CHAMPION

(By Sam Mercer)

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Atlantic City, N. J., July 1.—This was get away day for Champion Jack Dempsey.

The "big moment," of course, is still many hours removed, but the title holder has been released from the hard work of training at last and was scheduled to entertain for Jersey City and the scene of his battle with Carpenter some time this afternoon. The exact hour of his leaving was not definitely announced, nor was the location of his temporary quarters in Jersey City.

"Gee, the hours surely drag," said Dempsey. "Only forty-eight more hours and I'll tell you all you want to know about it. I'll be an expert of the fight then, myself."

It would be foolhardy to assert on the eve of the most prominent event of his life that Dempsey has no nerves, but they are the nerves of a boy brimming over with eagerness, impatience and fond anticipation. A man of fifty might approach such a situation with few outward signs to betray his feelings, but that is not the way of youth.

The boys around Airport spend no little time now discussing the battle of Saturday. Some one mentioned a prominent critic's prediction that Dempsey would win in less than two minutes. Jack would not venture a prediction.

"A fight's a fight," he said, stroking his bristly chin stubble, which by the way he will wear into the ring. "You never can tell what kind of a fight you are going to make until you get there. I'll tell you more on Saturday when I hang this on his chin."

Stating the action to the word he brought up his hairy right and clipped himself gently on the chin with the big fist that is as near as we ever heard Dempsey come to boasting.

The attitude of Carpenter's handlers is a quietly confident as ever. It is said they have bet quite heavily on his chances of staying the limit with the champion.
